Age and Mental Capacity

In these days when much is heard of proposals to retire the elderly to allow youth to take their places, the aged and those who have passed what is commonly understood as the years of their prime will derive a good deal of comfort from recent discoveries of eminent psychologists.

In brief, it has been discovered by actual tests, not promulgated as mere theories, that—(1) Mental power does not decline with age, contrary to popular misconception, and (2) That the ability of adults of advancing years to learn new things is almost as great as that of youth.

The first-mentioned discovery, that the mind does not grow old in step with declining physical powers, is the result of tests made by Dr. Irving Lorge, psychologist of Teachers' College, Columbia University, but according to Albert Wiggam, in an article in the Reader's Digest, older people require a little more time than their more youthful contemporaries to arrive at the same mental conclusions, the additional time required increasing somewhat with advancing years. In other words, there is no decline in mental capacity as one grows older, but there is a slowing down in the speed of mental processes.

As the result of a recent revision of mental tests given some years ago to hundreds of people ranging in age from ten to 90 years of age, in which all the tests were limited to time in answering the questions put to them Dr. Lorge found that with a power premium added to compensate for lack of speed the older age groups not only showed no loss of intellectual power but "the people of 50 and 60 had higher scores than those around 25. This increase," he adds, "may have been partly or largely due to the death of the slower and duller people."

When to this discovery is added the findings of Professor Edward L. Thorndike that older people have as great an ability to learn as youth, at least up to the age of 50 and 55, the older generations not only have no reason to believe that they should be "put on the shelf" but have good cause to decide that they are as valuable an asset to society as they were 30 or 40 years ago.

Dr. Thorndike's tests resulted in the general conclusion that "adults up to at least 45 can learn new things about as well as young people in their late teens; and that, while learning ability seems to decline very slowly from age 25 on, this small decline is offset in many cases by the older persons' interest in the subject, their feeling of its immediate practical value, and other factors, so that the real mental output of people up to 50 or 55 is often greater than that of people of about the same intelligence, working at the same tasks at 20 or 25."

Summing up his own conclusion as the result of his tests, Dr. Lorge said: "As far as mental ability is concerned, there need be no retiring age. The probabilities are that the older a person becomes, the more valuable he becomes. He possesses the same mental power he had in his young manhood plus his wealth of experience and knowledge of his particular job. These are things that no youngster, however brilliant, can pick up. For the same reason there is very definite value to the idea of 'elder statesmen' in politics and business."

These definite discoveries, established by exhaustive tests, should result in the re-establishment of confidence in their own powers on the part of the older generations and should serve to remind people of advancing years that there is no occasion for them to retire into their shells under a mistaken impression that they are "back numbers" and that there is no necessity to relegate themselves to mental arm chairs.

On the contrary, the announcement of these proven discoveries should stimulate the older folk, who have already accustomed themselves to the idea that their mental powers are inevitably failing because of advancing years, to again come out in the open and resume the place which their capacities warrant in the life of the family, the community and the nation. No longer need they imagine they are deficient in two essentials of happy and successful lives—mental capacity and ability to learn.

To again quote Dr. Lorge: "As the years advance, we should with quiet confidence, allow ourselves a little greater handicap for time, but as far as mental power is concerned, I believe, we can now be assured that we need not allow ourselves any handicap at all."

Not An Easy Job

English Vicar Finds It Impossible To Please People

Who'd be a parson?

Listen to what Rev. C. Paul Glidden, vicar of St. James' church, in the Walthamstow suburb of London, has to say about his job in his parish magazine:

If he is devout he is accused of "spending all his time in that church of his." If he visits his parish he is "always putting his nose into their people's business." If he does not, they say, "we might be dead for all he cares."

If he tries to meet the wishes of his people he "hasn't a mind of his own." If he carries out his own policy in his own way he "has no respect for other people's feelings."

There's this to be said about the birthday card you receive from your life insurance company—they send best wishes and really mean it.

If you have anything pleasant to say put it on paper; but quarrels, if we must quarrel, should always be by word of mouth.

To Study Communications

Empire Problem To Be Studied By Committee In England

The whole problem of Empire telegraphic communications will be examined by a committee of representatives of the dominions and colonies, under the chairmanship of Sir Campbell Stuart, chairman of the Imperial Communications Advisory committee and a native of Montreal.

In an address to the summer school of the Royal Empire Society, Edward Wilschaw, chairman of Cables and Wireless, Limited, announced the proposed committee.

Emphasizing that empire telegraphic communications constituted an essential part of the defence problem, Wilschaw pointed out that hitherto the British Empire had predominated in the matter of world communications, but that her position was now being seriously challenged.

There was grave danger, he said, that these communications were becoming wholly uneconomic. The governments of the Empire had agreed on the formation of the committee, he said, and he was confident a satisfactory solution would be found.

Willing To Oblige

The young bride of an official in the Transkei, new to the ways of the Territory, was buying some odds and ends at the local trading station.

"Now, have you a cocktail shaker?" she asked the native assistant, who for a moment looked puzzled.

"Ah, no, missis," he said presently, his face lighting up, "but we got some very good feather dusters!"

Explorers in the Yukon territory, Canada, during 1935, discovered 19 new mountain peaks more than 10,000 feet high.

Biggest Short Wave Station

B.B.C. Is Going To Spend $1,250,000 On Work At Daventry

The British Broadcasting Corp. will have spent $1,250,000 on making Daventry the biggest short wave broadcasting station in the world by the end of this year.

Six transmitters and a complicated system of 22 aerials with reflectors will give up to 100 per cent. better reception in the remote parts of the empire than does the existing equipment. A full 24-hour service will be possible if needed instead of the present 17½-hour service.

One of the transmitters radiating two beams in opposite directions will be able to serve South Africa and Canada simultaneously.

The government is determined to encourage the B.B.C. with "The Projection of England." Germany with 18 transmissions a day already has a vast "empire" broadcasting service.

Many of these German programs are in English and are particularly directed to those whom the Berlin announcer calls "our dear friends and listeners in South Africa." When the B.B.C.'s plans for Daventry are complete Britain will be heard throughout the world at considerably greater strength than Germany.

Every effort is being made to have all six of the Daventry transmitters working at maximum efficiency in time for the proposed world-wide coronation broadcasts.

Challenge And Opportunity

Co-operative Movement Offers Opportunities For The Youth

"If I were a young man today and was sincerely interested in agriculture; if I wanted to do a life work in which I felt reasonably sure of being able to render a real service; if I wanted an associateship, hardworking, inspired companions, I would associate myself with the co-operative movement."

"A worker in the co-operative movement deals with the challenges and the opportunity to draw on every atom of resourcefulness he possesses; to apply every bit of his ability and courage; to make every inch of growth of which he is capable."

"Economic freedom, spiritual freedom are the greatest possible possessions of the farmer. Regeneration of the land. The co-operative movement alone is the means for him to safeguard his independence."—H. E. Babcock, manager, Co-operative League Federation Exchange.

Canadian Poultry

Draws Favorable Comment At World Congress At Leipzig

The Department of Agriculture announced receipt of a cable from the Canadian delegation to the Leipzig, Germany, World Poultry Congress, saying Canada's exhibition of 69 birds had drawn favorable comment from visitors who were impressed by the birds' vitality and liveliness.

Five official delegates from Canada are among those at the congress from 60 nations. The Canadians are headed by F. C. Efford of Ottawa, Dominion poultry husbandman and former president of the congress, and F. C. Nunick, director of publicity and extension of the Department of Agriculture.

Paderewski In Films

Reported He Has Consented To Make His Art Available To Millions

Ignace Jean Paderewski, whose genius has thrilled music lovers the world over for nearly half a century, has at last consented to make his art available to millions through the medium of the cinema, it became known.

The master pianist and post-war premier of Poland is to take part in a film now being made at the Dagenham studio in London.

In the film, Paderewski is scheduled to play Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, always the piece de resistance in his concert programs, and selections from Chopin's works.

Biplane Goose Flies High

Makes Good Use Of Its Double Pair Of Wings

Emily, the biplane goose, soared over the barnyard of Douglas Sawyer, Harmon, N.Y., farwing its double set of wings to good advantage.

The bird, exhibited as a goosling at the New York State Fair last year, was said by poultry experts there to be the only owl with two pairs of wings to its knowledge. The goose uses both sets of wings to fly. The upper are larger and longer. The second or under pair is much shorter.

Honor Memory Of Haig

Vimy Veterans Remember Commander Of British Armies In France

The ancient abbey at Dryburgh, Scotland, whose ruins have for four centuries looked over the rippling River Tweed, was the locale of a service which saw the homage of the government and people of Canada paid to the memory of Earl Haig of Bemeray, who commanded the British armies in France during the war.

At the same time a wreath of poppies and Canadian maple leaves was deposited on the simple soldier's cross which marks the sepulchre of Haig.

Rev. John Kelman, minister of Fairbank Presbyterian church, Toronto, and national representative of the tuberculous veterans' section of the Canadian Legion, was the preacher at the special service which was attended by members of the Vimy pilgrimage, representatives of the Canadian government and many Scottish dignitaries.

The Toronto minister recalled the "scurillous attacks" on the memory of Haig by those "who had become bold enough to launch them only when his great soul was silenced forever." These had been met with calmness, with dignity and unflinching courage by Lady Haig, widow of the dead commander.

Used Notes In Braille

War-Blinded M.P. Gave Speech In Broadcasting Debate

It was a surprise to most M.P.'s to see Sir Ian Fraser using notes for the speech he made in a broadcasting debate. Sir Ian is the war-blinded M.P. who was responsible for getting blind people the privilege of free wireless licenses.

The notes he used were embossed in Braille on light brown cards rather than playing cards. Each card contained only one or two words as a heading for a section of his speech. Sir Ian Fraser held his notes in front of him and passed his finger along the card to give himself his next point. Using notes in this way he kept his head up, and his voice was not interrupted like those of most M.P.'s when they look down at their manuscript.

On the other hand, Major Tryon gave an example of a speech rendered largely inaudible by the use of a manuscript. The Postmaster-General's fault was the more glaring—London Daily Telegraph.

Anglo-Russian Trade

Commercial Agreement Establishing Credits For Soviet Orders

An Anglo-Russian commercial agreement establishing a £10,000,000 ($50,000,000) credit for Soviet orders for British exports was announced in London by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade.

Russian orders are to be placed by Sept. 30, 1937. Runciman said the Soviet trade representative had given formal assurance that Russia intends to place orders up to the full limit of the credit. They will not, however, include munitions.

Runciman also announced suspension of Anglo-Italian negotiations for the resumption of trade. Italy, he said, was unwilling to accept any arrangement in regard to trade debts which could be considered "adequate."

At the same time Italy is imposing severe restrictions on imports from the United Kingdom, he stated.

Old Italian Theatre Found

Contained Relics Dating Back To Time Of The Caesars

Discovery of an Augustan age theatre, regarded as one of the most important archaeological finds in Italy in recent years, has been announced. Even remnants of the machinery for raising the curtain were uncovered in the well-preserved centuries-old building.

It was found on the site of the ancient town of Casinum and among the relics yielded were inscriptions, statues, money and stagecraft utensils dating back to the time of the Caesars.

Casinum was the ancient Italian town where Mark Antony was reputed to have held his orgies and where, at the foot of a mountain, the Romans constructed a still-existing amphitheatre.

Deer Too Dear

Deer are far too dear, according to A. Fletcher of Glenmorris, who recently applied to the Ontario Department of Agriculture for protection from the animals. Mr. Fletcher planted a garden twice this year only to have a herd of about 20 deer destroy it in nocturnal raids. He estimated the deer have consumed about 5,000 cauliflowers and 3,000 heads of late cabbage.

Theatres In Russia

Eleven Thousand Motion Picture Palaces To Be In Operation

Eleven thousand sound equipped motion picture theatres will be in operation in the Soviet Union by the end of 1936, according to government plans. The number of theatres, motion picture houses and circuses of all types is expected to reach 44,800, an increase of 8,000 over 1935 figures.

New theatres will be built in Moscow, Leningrad, Alma-Ata, Kazan, Simferopol, Ulan-Ude, Chelyabinsk, Baku, Kirov, Ashkhabad and many other cities.

Construction of the country's largest motion picture theatre has been completed in Leningrad. It carries out the traditions of a "movie palace." The facade of the five-story building is adorned with 15 pillars of Karelian granite. The interior of the building is faced with marble and adorned with bas-reliefs.

Seats are provided for 1,500 spectators.

May Get Radio Job

The London Daily Mail said the Marquess of Willington probably will be offered, and will accept, the presidency of the British Broadcasting Corporation. The B.B.C.'s new five-year charter comes into operation Jan. 1, 1937. Ronald Collett Norman, brother of Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, is president of the B.B.C. at present.

Just A Point Of View

Many Would Think Experience Of Girl Exciting Enough

When Gloria Hollister, the yellow-haired girl who has been nearer the floor of the ocean than any other living woman, came back last night from the zoological expedition she headed to British Guiana, South America, she announced that nothing exciting had happened.

That's all in the point of view, however. Miss Hollister, bred to adventure, thinks little of traveling over hundreds of miles of jungle—some of it never before seen by a white man—in a one-motor plane.

The zoologist, though still in her twenties, is a member of the New York Zoological Society. Once, when the party of 20 was travelling by boat on a lonely river, they discovered, on awakening on shore in the morning, that their boat had been sunk by the swollen torrents and heavy rains in the night. But it was raised and the party continued its journey.

Peace Garden

Three Thousand People Gather To Hear Addresses

An international boundary, 3,000 miles in length, dividing Canada and the United States, was pointed to as a monument of peace in a world distracted and under the dominion of fear.

The reference was made at Boissevain, Man., by Hon. T. A. C. Crerar, federal minister of the interior at ceremonies at the international peace garden. More than 3,000 people attended to hear addresses by Governor Walter Welford of North Dakota and Senator Nye of North Dakota.

UNANSWERABLE !

Cold logic would suggest that every grain grower in the vicinity of an Alberta Pool elevator should deliver his grain thereto.

This organization is conducted on the basis of pure co-operation, a movement that has been tried and proven sound over a long period of time.

The co-operation movement is the one sure way of preventing exploitation, assuring fair business methods and overcoming the possibility of the accumulation of private fortunes at the expense of the growers.

Every wheat producer in Western Canada benefitted materially as the result of the formation of the Wheat Board last year, a direct accomplishment of the determined stand of the Wheat Pools.

The Pools are the one force working exclusively for the benefit of the grain growers, on an aggressive, forward-looking basis.
